I. Introduction

1. The General Assembly, in paragraph 1 of its resolution 77/33, called upon Member States to provide the Secretary-General, by 30 April annually, with a report on their military expenditures for the latest fiscal year for which data were available, using, preferably and to the extent possible, one of the online reporting forms including, if appropriate, a nil report or the “single figure” report on military expenditures or any other format developed in the context of similar reporting on military expenditures to other international or regional organizations.

2. According to the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, world military expenditures reached a record high of $2.72 trillion in 2024, which represents an increase of 37 per cent over the past 10 years.¹ In the Pact for the Future, adopted in September 2024, the General Assembly expressed concern about the potential impact that the global increase in military expenditures could have on investments in sustainable development and sustaining peace. In action 13 (c) of the Pact, the Assembly decided to ensure that military spending did not compromise investment in sustainable development and building sustainable peace and requested the Secretary-General to provide analysis on the impact of the global increase in military expenditure on the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals by the end of its seventy-ninth session.

II. Actions taken by the Secretariat

3. On 7 February 2025, the Secretariat sent a note verbale to Member States seeking their inputs, followed by email reminders sent in March and April to national points of contact and permanent missions of Member States in New York and Geneva. The Secretariat also shared reminders, through its social media channels, of submission deadlines and updates on reports received. The replies received are reproduced in section III below. Additional replies received after the processing of the present report will be posted on the online database for military expenditures in the original language received.²

4. The Office for Disarmament Affairs continued to maintain the online database for military expenditures and the online reporting tool, which are now available in the six official United Nations languages. During the reporting period, 71 per cent of States that submitted their report did so using the online reporting tool.

5. On 2 April 2025, the Office for Disarmament Affairs, in collaboration with the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, held a virtual training workshop for national points of contact and staff from permanent missions of Member States on preparing United Nations Report on Military Expenditures submissions. The training workshop contributed to raising awareness about the importance of transparency in military expenditures and building States’ reporting capacity. The design of the training workshop was based on a practical guide on how to leverage public national budgets to prepare national reports for submission to the United Nations Report on Military Expenditures instrument, published by the Institute and funded through the United Nations Trust Facility Supporting Cooperation on Arms Regulation.³ In total,

^b An additional five reports were received after issuance of the report of the Secretary-General of 2023 (A/78/158).

III. Replies received from Governments

7. As at the date of submission of the present consolidated report, the Secretary-General had received national reports from 62 Governments, including 23 standardized, 23 simplified, 7 single-figure and 8 nil reports and 1 in another format (see table 2).

8. Some States provided clarifications and additional information on defence planning to explain their military expenditures. Those are also included in the present report.

Explanatory remarks

The “Others” column represents the Estonian Central Support and Administrative Command, which covers the majority of the expenses in most categories. Thus, it is difficult to give a detailed breakdown by branch, as there are entire categories of expenses that are covered by the Support Command, rather than any of the branches.

Explanatory remarks

1. For technical reasons, budgetary figures are presented instead of actual expenditures.
2. Details may not add up to the totals due to rounding off.
3. “Personnel” (row 1) includes food for uniformed personnel.
4. For technical reasons, cost-sharing for stationing of United States forces in Japan (fiscal year 2024: 212.4 billion yen) is included in the figures presented under “Central support administration and command”.
5. Besides the above table, there are expenses related to the Special Action Committee on Okinawa (fiscal year 2024: 11.6 billion yen), and United States forces realignment (the portion allocated to mitigating the impact on local communities) (fiscal year 2024: 213.0 billion yen).
6. The cost for the National Security Conference has not been included in the above table because the cost has been funded as other expenses since fiscal year 2008.
7. The budget for fiscal year 2024 includes the Digital Agency budget for the system of the Ministry of Defence (fiscal year 2024: 32.4 billion yen).
8. Figures for 3.2.1 to 3.2.6 and for 4.1 and 4.2 are not available because the breakdown items for 3.2 and 4 shown in the table do not match the actual breakdown items.
9. Japan’s fiscal year runs from 1 April 1 to 31 March.

Explanatory remarks

Unit of measurement is 1/1,000,000. The “Naval forces” column contains information on total army expenditures. The “United Nations peacekeeping” column contains information on Montenegro’s contribution to the United Nations mission for 2024 (allowances for one officer participating in the United Nations Mission for the Referendum in Western Sahara). Military expenditure for 2024 (excluding pensions because they are not part of the military budget) amounted to €111.42 million, or 1.50 per cent of gross domestic product (€7,416.7 million according to data from the Ministry of Finance of Montenegro). In comparison with 2023, the budget for 2024 represents a nominal increase of €20.41 million, or 22.42 per cent. In addition to the above-mentioned funds, in 2024, funds gained from the sale of armaments and military equipment and services were approved as a form of support for the defence budget for the purpose of achieving capability targets and equipping the Armed Forces of Montenegro. Inflation is estimated to have decreased from 8.6 per cent in 2023 to 4.8 per cent in 2024 and 4 per cent in 2025. The unemployment rate was 13.1 per cent in 2023; it is estimated to have been 12.2 per cent in 2024 and to stand at 11.1 per cent in 2025 (latest official data from the Ministry of Finance).

Qatar

[Original: English]
[25 March 2025]

Fiscal year: 2024

Military expenditures in the State of Qatar are restricted to the narrowest scope and are strictly limited to conventional weapons, with the aim of defending national security and sovereignty in light of international and regional circumstances. The allocated military budget is dedicated to achieving this objective and supporting the implementation of the country's development plans.

Explanatory remarks

Thailand's defence and military structure is slightly different from the structure in the standardized form. Therefore, further clarification is provided below.

- Strategic forces (column 1): Royal Thai Armed Forces headquarters serves as the supreme command of the Thai armed forces, placing it at the highest level of military authority in the country. It also oversees Thai forces deployed overseas for peacekeeping and humanitarian missions, showcasing its strategic involvement in regional and global security efforts.
- Other military forces (column 5): Defence Technology Institute.
- Central support administration and command (column 6): Office of the Permanent Secretary for Defence.
